

MEXICAN REBELS LAYING PLANS FOR FALL ELECTION

Provisional President
Will be Chosen
Soon

CARRANZA'S FATE IN DOUBT

BULLETIN
VERA CRUZ, May 15.—(By The Associated Press.)—President Carranza, who with a force of loyal troops has been resisting rebel attacks near San Marcos, state of Puebla, for the last five days, has broken thru the rebel lines to the south and accompanied by 1,000 men has fled to the mountains near Puebla and Oaxaca, according to advices received here this morning.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Further indication that Pablo Gonzalez and Alvaro Obregon, formerly candidates for the presidency of Mexico and now jointly occupying Mexico City, are working in accord, was contained in a dispatch from the state department today. Both have published statements endorsing Antonio Villarreal for provisional president.

An extra session of the Mexican congress has been called to name a provisional executive, who under the terms of the published program of the revolutionists, will supervise the election of a president and serve until December 31, when the new president should assume office.

Adolfo De La Huerta, preliminary chief of the revolution, was expected to arrive in the capital next week and take charge of affairs until the provisional president is named.

The support given Villarreal's candidacy was of peculiar interest to American officials because of its possible indication of character of the proposed government.

Villarreal, once governor of the state of Nuevo Leon, was in exile for more than three years, living in El Paso, Texas.

Other candidates are Fernando Iglesias Calderon, an attorney of the conservative school, Juan Sanchez Ancona, active in politics since his espousal of the cause, Gen. Bernardo Reyes, in 1910 and Jacinto Trevino, the officer Obregon was reported to have sent to the head of a mission a week ago to offer Carranza safe conduct if he wished to leave the country.

Azcona, who was placed in temporary charge of foreign affairs by Gonzalez soon after his occupation of the capital has announced, according to a report from the embassy to the state department, that no effort would be made to establish direct relations with the diplomatic corps until a provisional government is established.

Official interest in the situation was increased by reports that the British consul at Vera Cruz and two Americans, J. H. Durebachs, representative of the National City Bank and J. C. Pickwick, representing Lever, Son & Co., of New York were with Carranza's fighting group somewhere between the capital and Vera Cruz. Arrangements to bring Carranza out under a flag of truce were in process.

Carranza's Fate in Doubt
El Paso, Texas, May 14.—With the fate of President Carranza still in doubt, Mexican telegraph officials from Juarez to Mexico City tonight were said to be making strenuous efforts to handle the almost overwhelming mass of government and press messages presented to their offices for transmission.

The latest official word received up to a late hour today was from Gen. Alvaro Obregon, former candidate for the presidency of the republic, who reported to Louis De Oca, revolutionary "consul" here, that President Carranza's capture was a matter of hours and that a train carrying Carranza and his family was in progress, captured by forces under General Guadalupe Sanchez, said to be one of Obregon's strongest supporters in Vera Cruz. Although General Obregon's message gave no details, it was presumed that the capture was made near Rinconada, Puebla, where the revolutionary leader yesterday reported that a battle had been in progress during the last few days.

General Obregon said that the states of Colima and Jalisco were entirely in the hands of the revolutionists, that in that region. These included the forces formerly under General Manuel M. Diezguerra, Carranza commander in the north, who has been reported captured, it was said.

Saltillo, capital of Coahuila, was in the hands of the Obregon commander, General Luis Gutierrez, it was claimed.

NARROW ESCAPE
Chicago, May 14.—Lieut. Ralph Diggins, a commercial aviator, and Miss Jessie Brady, an aviation student, escaped injury when an airplane in which they were flying today fell 75 feet in Grant Park. The plane had been in the air an hour when the motor gave out forcing the aviator to volplane to land. In order to avoid hitting automobiles in the park, the pilot made a nose dive when 75 feet from the ground.

THE AMERICAN LEGION STANDS FOR COUNTRY

ORGANIZATION IS ALL AMERICAN IN SPIRIT.

Great Potential Strength of Legion Outlined by Col. Foreman and Col. Clifford in Addresses Here Before the Rotary Club—Citizens Have Vital Interest in the Movement.

Officers and organizers of the Illinois department of the American Legion were visitors in Jacksonville yesterday. The party included Col. Milton Foreman, Chicago, department commander; Col. Edward Clifford, Evanston, chairman of the state financial committee; William McCauley, Inez, vice commander; Earl Seary, Springfield, adjutant; W. L. Setcliffe, Rockford, state organizer.

R. Y. Rowe, who is commander of the local post, drove to Chicago to meet the men in the party and they were brought to Jacksonville and were guests at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club. After the usual business program President Myron L. Pontius expressed the pleasure that the club felt in having the American Legion representatives as guests. The time available made it possible to hear addresses only from Col. Foreman and Col. Clifford. Other members of the party were present, as were several Jacksonville citizens present as guests because of their interest in American Legion affairs.

Both of the speakers outlined the purposes of the Legion organization and impressed the thought that the organization is really of more importance to the country at large than it is to the ex-service men.

All Citizens Interested.

Col. Foreman said:

"This subject is more important to you than it is to the men who engaged actively in the war. The nation today needs some great stabilizing force and we believe that it can be found in this organization. You cannot turn the world upside down without having changes take place, and so when you took millions of men from the ordinary occupations of life and made them thru a training period into soldiers and gave them varied experiences overseas, they became different men. We realized that fact and the question kept presenting itself to our minds, 'What will become of these men as they return to the home country?'"

Col. Foreman read the preamble of the American Legion to give to his auditors a definite idea of the purposes of the organization. "First of all, the American Legion is for our country. There are no percentages in Americanism and if you try to make degrees of American spirit, then loyalty and patriotism are gone. The enemy at home is more dangerous and subtle than the one we met on the battlefields of Europe. Five million ex-service men are entitled to membership in the Legion and the members of their families or near relatives make up an additional twenty million. When you think of the possibilities for community and civic force in such a great group you can understand what force the American Legion as an organization may carry with it."

The Legion stands as the guardian of the mothers of this country, whose hearts are buried in the cemeteries of France with the soldiers they loved. When the history of this war is truly written, the richest chapters will be placed upon the brows of the mothers whose sons sleep in France.

The Interdependence of Men.
"Then the Legion purposes to care for the soldiers crippled by the war and to make certain that these men receive the care due them, not just now but thru the later years of life. Still another task for the Legion is that of perpetuating the comradeship sanctified by the war. A new brotherhood was created as our American soldiers elbow to elbow moved across the battle fields of France. Comradeship was needed and then and there it is then and there it is not needed now, here in our own country. The experiences taught the interdependence of men and the lesson was valuable if it is remembered thru the years."

"You men active in business and professional life have reason to support this movement, for in it there are the possibilities for development of community strength, a spirit of brotherhood, the like of which the world has not seen before."

Col. Clifford preceded Col. Foreman in brief remarks. He was introduced by Mr. Pontius as a man in whom Jacksonville has pride and pleasure because he was resident here for a number of years. Mr. Pontius made reference to the patriotism Col. Clifford showed during the war time and the success that he has achieved in the business world.

Col. Clifford said:

"A man finds as years pass by that his friends come only second to his home in the grades of importance. While there are 3,000,000 Illinois men eligible to membership in the American Legion, only 60,000 of them now hold membership. There are heart possibilities in this organization because of the principles on which it is founded and from the further fact that it includes men in all the walks of life, in all parts of the United States. It brings them on equal footing into one great company, teaching patriotism and the help-

ADKINS GIVES OUT CROP ESTIMATES FOR ILLINOIS

Large Winter Wheat
Acreage Will be Abandoned

REPORT ON LEADING GRAINS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 14.—The acreage in winter wheat that will be abandoned in Illinois will be 18 percent of that sown last year, according to estimates made public in a report today by S. D. Fessenden, field agent of the United States bureau of crop estimates and Charles Adkins, director of the Illinois department of agriculture. The condition of the growing crop on May 1 is estimated at sixty-nine percent of normal. A crop of 27,795,000 bushels is forecast.

Both plowing for corn and sowing of the small grains are very backward in the state and it will be difficult for farmers to get in the intended acreage of oats, spring wheat and barley.

The report on the leading grains and on livestock follows:

Winter wheat.—The acreage that will not be harvested in the state is estimated of 18 percent of that sown last year or approximately 4,327,200 acres, leaving about 1,971,280 acres from which the crop will be gathered. This compares with 1.9 percent of the acreage sown in the United States as a whole which will not be harvested or approximately 4,613,000 acres, leaving in the whole country about 34,157,000 acres from which the 1920 crop will be gathered.

The condition of the growing crop in Illinois on May 1 is estimated at sixty-nine percent of the normal, which forecast a crop of about 27,795,000 bushels.

Rye.—The acreage to be harvested in Illinois is reported at eighty-four percent of that harvested last year or 210,000 acres. The condition of the growing crop on May 1 is estimated at 84 percent of normal, which forecasts a crop of approximately 1,444,000 bushels.

Hay.—Practically the same acreage of tame hay as was harvested last year or 3,250,000 acres, will be harvested this season according to our returns. The condition of this crop in the state on May 1 is estimated at eighty-five percent of the normal, which indicates a crop of 4,160,000 tons. On May 1, 1920, there remained on the farms of the state 11 percent of last year's total hay crop.

For the crop of wild hay in Illinois it is estimated that there will be harvested 98 percent of that harvested last year and that the condition of this crop on May 1 was eighty-five percent of the normal.

Plowing and sowing.—Our reports show that thirty-six percent of the plowing and 39 percent of the sowing had been done in Illinois on May 1.

Pastures.—The condition of the pastures on May 1 is estimated at seventy-eight percent of the normal.

Livestock.—According to our reports the deaths per 1,000 last year in Illinois were as follows: Horses, from diseases 19; Cattle, from diseases 17; from exposure 6; Sheep, from disease 25; from exposure 19; Lambs, from disease and exposure 46 and swine, from disease 63.

It is estimated that the condition as compared with the normal of the star classes of livestock on May 1 was as follows: Illinois—Horses 93; cattle 93; sheep 92; and swine 91.

Orchard fruits. The condition of the principal orchard fruits in the state on May 1, 1920, is estimated as follows: Apples 80 percent of the normal; peaches 71 percent; pears 75 percent and cherries 77 percent.

HOOVER GOES OVER SUGAR SITUATION WITH CONGRESS

Declares There is no Immediate Relief in Sight—Favors Rationing

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Herbert Hoover, former food administrator and candidate for the Republican nomination for president, gave his views to congress today on the sugar and industrial situation.

Appearing before a house committee investigating the sugar situation, Mr. Hoover declared that the world shortage of the product was likely to continue two or three years. The pressing need was rationing, he said, with immediate government action to control the supply thru commercial, not legislative, methods. Altho the hearing related primarily to the action of Attorney General Palmer in approving a maximum price for the Louisiana crop, it reached out into a broader field after Mr. Hoover said he could give only an "offhand" opinion as to that proceeding. Mr. Hoover said, however, that the government should have bought the Louisiana crop last year, pocketing the loss, or else selling the luxury trade at an advance.

Earlier in the day Mr. Hoover, who was a member of Mr. Wilson's second industrial conference, told the senate labor committee he did not believe that the relationship between employers and employees could be settled by any form of legal repression, whether it be by injunction, compulsory arbitration or industrial courts. He said labor unquestionably had been affected by reports of the excessive profits of some employers, altho he was emphatic in asserting that unlike Europe, the United States had not been threatened by any attempt by labor leaders to use the strike as a political weapon.

THREE TESTIFY AT PREVOST TRIAL
MOUNT CLEMONS, Mich., May 14.—Three witnesses called today in the trial of Lloyd Prevost for the alleged murder of Dr. Stanley Brown last Christmas Eve were sworn as to conditions surrounding the finding of the body of the wealthy young man in his motor car on a country road near here.

The body, according to Louis Dreifahl, a farmer, was pitched over the steering wheel. William Sperlich, deputy coroner, related the finding of the coroner's jury, that Brown died from four bullet wounds in the head and Dr. John Lenfest described the nature of the wounds as disclosed by autopsy. Any one of the four bullets fired, he said would have caused death.

The jury was taken to the scene of the slaying this morning and Attorney General Grosbeck, opened the case for the state.

SENATE ALL SET TO VOTE ON PEACE RESOLUTION TODAY

Predict Passage and Veto by President
Wilson

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Arrangements for the senate's vote tomorrow at 4 p. m. on the Repeal of the peace resolution over St. Louis, Mo., was completed tonight with its adoption and a vote later by President Wilson a foregone conclusion according to leaders of both parties.

Democratic estimates were that the resolution would have a majority of from five to seven votes, depending on whether another senator joins Senator McCumber, of N. D. in opposition. At least four Democrats were expected to vote with Republicans for adoption.

The president's veto message is expected to define more clearly the campaign issue on the questions of peace and the treaty of Versailles.

Democratic leaders tonight predicted that the treaty would not be returned to the senate with the veto message, but that the president would outline more extensively his position in the message and thus let matters go "on country."

The president's position given in his telegram to Oregon Democrats, was attacked today by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri who spoke for more than two hours in behalf of the peace resolution.

ONLY ONE FULL CREDIT

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Rear Admiral Sims robbed American destroyer crews of credit due them by leaving the investigation of combats with submarines to the British admiralty. Secretary Daniels today told the senate naval investigating committee. Had he known the American officers were not reviewing the circumstances of battles between American vessels and U-boats, he would have ordered the admiral to adopt that course, the secretary said.

Admiral reports and awards of credit to the Americans were accepted by Admiral Sims, Mr. Daniels said, altho the British demanded absolutely conclusive proof before giving credit for the sinking of a submarine vessel, while using a less vigorous standard in the case of British ships.

Out of 256 attacks on submarines by American vessels, the British gave the United States credit for only 24 successful attacks, most of which were listed as "possibly slightly damaged," said Secretary Daniels. In only one case was full credit given for the sinking of a U-boat given an American flag ship, this being the destroyer Panmug, which sank the U-58 and captured the crew.

"In explaining why so few credits were given for known sinkings, the summary of the British Rear Admiral Sims states that, 'unless prisoners or unmistakable wreckage were obtained following an attack,' said Mr. Daniels, 'the prisoners or wreckage were not absolutely required before a vessel was credited with sinking a submarine is shown by reports in British admiralty records of 'saves' as known sinkings."

The secretary then read records of encounters between British ships and submarines in which credit was given for sinking the submarine, altho neither prisoners nor wreckage were obtained.

Admiral Sims' own reports refute the charge made in his letter of January 7, that destroyers were "flushed thru brief and inadequate preparation before being sent aboard," the secretary said.

Turning to Admiral Sims' criticism that the navy was unprepared for war in April, 1917, Mr. Daniels said that Admiral Jellicoe's book on the "Battle of Jutland" showed that "not even the British navy," expecting every minute a decisive battle, could be 100 per cent prepared.

More than 100 people die each year in the average American community of 25,000 whose lives could be saved if the rules of the modern science of preventive medicine were generally known and applied. The American Red Cross is devoting its efforts to the task of saving these lives through the education of the people.

THE AVERAGE MAN

This is Gov. Frank Lowden's tribute to the average man: "The final test of civilization is the lot of the average man."

"So far as I am concerned, upon any question of policy, I only want to know whether the policy is better for the average man."

"The test which we are going to make of great success in manufacturing is going to be more the well being, the condition in life of the men and women employed in that industry."

"If we clash on great questions of policy, we shall have the courage to face one another and thresh them out, holding in our hearts all the while the betterment of the average man."

"I would think that I had a heart of stone if, when I leave my office at the end of my term, I should not be able to feel that the men and women of our state, were not a little better off because I had served and wrought in office."

It is quite plain from Bainbridge Colby's speeches why he was put into the cabinet as secretary of state. It was not because of any transcendent ability he has as a diplomat or administrator but because of his fluency in spreading the propaganda of internationalism.

Mr. Colby's latest speech is a thinly-veiled plea for the internationalist doctrine that the United States must put its money and men and resources at the disposal of Europe, quite regardless of the burdens under which Americans are staggering. It is a slightly disguised argument for the Wilson league covenant.

No wonder utility corporations are seeking for authority to increase rates. One of the largest gas producing companies in Illinois on the present basis of operation is said to be losing money at the rate of $8,000 per day.

At any rate the Socialists are loyal to their long time leader, Eugene Debs. It is not every party that would be willing to renounce the man for the presidency, even though he is within the walls of the federal prison and unable to take active part in the campaign.

Herbert Hoover says that the sugar shortage is going to continue for several years and that the day of high prices is here to stay. It that be true, we agree with the former food administrator that rationing is a necessary evil.

An early agreement between the two houses on a budget system bill is said to be assured, as the result of the passage of the Good bill by the house and the McCormick bill by the senate.

"It now remains to be seen whether an administration that has been notorious for its waste and extravagance will really endeavor to give the budget law an effective administration, or will proceed on the theory that when a law is passed, the public forgets it and that efficiency in administration is not important."

ALIS WELL THAT ENDS WELL

Very few of the farmers here any of their corn planted and many fields are still unplowed. Oats got a late start this spring because of the continued wet weather. In some wheat fields a destructive fly is said to be at work. When it comes to gardens, early planted potatoes are rotting in the ground and there has been so much rain that it has been impossible to plant other vegetables.

All of which sounds very dark and dreary, but for all the grief which the late spring and heavy rains have brought, the fact remains that in the good country there is never a complete failure of crops. Just now the sorrows of the farmers are like the sands of the sea, but the harvest time will surely come and the chances are 100 to 1 that conditions then will be normally satisfactory.

IS PLEDGED TO AMERICANISM

Business and professional men who were present at the Rotary luncheon yesterday pledged their support to the American Legion. Well might this action be taken, for the Legion stands today for unadulterated Americanism and has within it the possibilities for providing that stabilizing force that the time demands. The chances are that the need for this stabilizing influence will be more apparent in coming months even than it is today.

There is also, as the visiting speakers said, the chance for developing thru the Legion a new understanding of the brotherhood of man. That is certainly the greatest need of the day and hour. There will be no settlement of existing difficulties until the men who are employers and the men who are employees come to a better understanding and a keener appreciation of their interdependence.

There will come no satisfactory end to prevent restlessness until that day when the man who se's goods seeks to give the public all he can for a dollar instead of as little as he can. It will not come until the man who works seeks to accomplish all that he can within the hour of the day's work instead of endeavoring to do as little as possible during those given hours.

The Game.

I am going to the park, where the baseball artists play, and I'm blithe as any lark that uplifts its song today. For a while I can forget, as I watch them sweat the sphere, all the weary things that fret, and the sigh and sob and tear. There'll be time to walk the floor with a weep-rag in my hand, when this bully game is o'er and the visitors are canned. Oh, our pitcher is in form, and a mighty arm is his; when that wing gets good and warm he'll show wizards how to wizz. When I see him winding up I forget that I must drink sorrow from a bitter cup, that will put me on the blink. I forget that rents are high, that the ladder's bare of hash, that the children wait for pie, clothing, shoes and succotash. I forget the profiteers who have soaked us left and right, that the bankrupt court appears as the only thing in sight. For a while I cast aside all my brooding and despair, when I see our heroes slide round the bases on their hair. When I see the joyous mob at the ball games, as of yore, "Well," I murmur, through a sob, "we are growing sane once more."

ALL IN READINESS FOR ATHLETIC MEET

Weather Man Promises Good Day—Dual Meet in Morning, Interscholastic in the Afternoon—Over Four Hundred Athletes Will Participate.

With a good day promised by the weather man all in readiness for the greatest athletic meet ever seen in Jacksonville. Over four hundred athletes will compete for honors in the Illinois-Bradley and Interscholastic meets which will be run off on Illinois field today.

Great interest is being manifested in the dual meet between Illinois College and Bradley of Peoria which will start promptly at 10 o'clock. Coach Harmon's men are in fair shape and unless Bradley develops unexpected strength the Blue and White should win. Immediately following the dual meet the great Illinois College Interscholastic meet will start. It is expected to start the events promptly at 1 o'clock and from that time until the relay there should be no end of excitement on Illinois field.

Coach Harmon said last night that many of the contestants were in town. He also said there had been a splendid response of citizens with rooms and all visitors were sure of being well taken care of in the matter of sleeping quarters.

The track is in excellent shape and all that is needed is a little warmer weather. Indications for today say rising temperature and it is probable that by the time the events start the weather conditions will be ideal.

Bradley will have the following track and field men in the events this afternoon. All of the men, with the exception of Wittick and Meyers are new men. These men finished second and third to Shoemaker in the 220 dash at Peoria last year. The entries in the various events follow:

100 yards dash—Knauss, Harris, Gehrig and Meyers.
220 yards dash—Knauss, Wittick, Gehrig.
440 yards dash—Wittick, Ewing, Huck.
880 yards run—Huck, Kraker, Tirmenstein.
1 mile run—Kraker, Tirmenstein.
120 yards hurdles—Ewing, Clark, Graham.
220 yards hurdles—Ewing, Graham, Gehrig, Ireland.
Shot put—Plumer, Meinen, Knauss.
Discus—Plumer, Meinen, Meyers, Graham.

Deaths

Million.

At 8 o'clock Friday morning Hugh Edward Million quietly breathed his last as the result of a complication of diseases. Mr. Million was born in November 1874 in Macoupin county and was the son of Elijah and Eliza Kennedy Million. At the age of three years he went with his parents to Murrayville precinct which since that time has been his home. He had the benefit of good schools and the training of good parents and grew to manhood under most favorable circumstances. He was connected for a time with the bank at Manchester but followed farming for the greater part of his life until twelve years ago when he and his brother Clyde bought the lumber yard of E. L. Sharpe in Murrayville and his career as a business man began. His brother Clyde sold out to him a few years after they began business and since that time he has conducted the business successfully himself. He was also a partner in the Murrayville bank.

He was married December 24, 1901 to Miss Nettie E. Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Cunningham of Murrayville, the late Rev. S. A. Glasgow performing the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents a few miles south of Murrayville. He was a member of the Murrayville Methodist church and both he and his wife ever devoted members, always quietly doing all in their power for the good of the institution and for every one. Mr. Million was a man universally respected. No one ever had a word to utter against him for he ever tried to do what was strictly honorable and right and if he made a mistake it was never intentional.

In the church he held the offices of secretary and treasurer. His untimely death will be a great blow to his devoted wife and all his relatives and friends and to the community of which he was such a valuable and useful citizen. He is survived by his mother, his wife, two brothers, Emory of Muskogee, Oklahoma, and Clyde of Delevan, Ill.; two sisters, Carrie Maude, Mrs. J. E. Osborne of this city, and Alma A. Mrs. Warren E. Wright of Murrayville. A brother George and a sister Sadie preceded him in death.

The time for the funeral has not been set.

Births

Born, May 14, to Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz S. Kehl of Mexico, Mo., a son, Lorenz S. Jr. Mrs. Kehl before her marriage was Miss Frieda Button of this city.

Watch the Little Pimples; They are Nature's Warning

Unsightly and Disfiguring Signals of Bad Blood

Don't close your eyes to the warning which nature gives, when unsightly pimples appear on your face and other parts of the body.

Not only are these pimples and blotches disfiguring, but they lead to serious skin diseases that spread and cause the most discomforting irritation and pain. Sometimes they foretell eczema, boils, blisters, sealy eruptions and other annoyances that burn like flames of fire, and make you feel that your skin is ablaze.

When these symptoms appear on any part of the body, take prompt steps to rid the blood of these disorders. And the one remedy which has no equal as a purifier is S. S. S., the purely vegetable blood medicine, which has been on the market for more than fifty years. It is sold by druggists everywhere.

If you are afflicted with any form of skin disease, do not expect to be cured by lotions, ointments, salves and other local remedies, as they can not possibly reach the source of the trouble which is in the blood. Begin taking S. S. S. today, and write a complete history of your case to our chief medical advisor who will give you special instructions, without charge. Write at once to Swift Specific Co., 441 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL
Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Some Personal Facts.

Col. Foreman is a well known Chicago attorney. He has been interested in military affairs for twenty-five years, being identified with the Illinois National Guard for a long period. In the Spanish-American war he served as colonel of the first cavalry of Illinois. In 1916-17 he saw service on the Mexican border. Then when the United States entered the world war and because there was no need for cavalry, the first under Col. Foreman's direction, was converted into the 122nd field artillery and attached to the 33d division.

The men were sent overseas in the spring of 1918 and there were made a part of the first division. They took part in the battle of the Argonne and other memorable conflicts of the war. Col. Foreman was awarded the distinguished service medal and was twice recommended for a brigadier general's commission. Such a recommendation speaks a man of tremendous force and patriotism without limit.

Col. Clifford, who is not a military man, soon after the United States declared war, offered his services to the government. Because of an exceptional record made in the second Liberty loan, he was asked to go to Washington to take part in financial work. He was later released by the treasury department, given the rank of lieutenant colonel and placed in charge of the department of insurance and allotments with several thousand employees under his direction. Subsequently he was sent on a financial mission to France and was there when the armistice was signed. Col. Clifford has long been on terms of intimacy with Gen. Charles G. Dawes, who is purchasing agent for the American government in France, and during part of his stay overseas was a guest of Gen. Dawes.

Following the address came a brief rotary session and Floyd Hamilton was presented as the newest Rotarian.

The following were the pallbearers, Clarence Scott, John Scott, John Ornellas, Elmer Day, Clarence Day and Harold Vierla. Burial was in the Jacksonville cemetery.

EXHIBIT OF SCHOOL WORK IS INTERESTING

Display Was Made in David Prince, and Ward's Buildings—Displays Showed Various Phases of School Work.

The parents of the students in the public schools were interested last evening in seeing the exhibits of the work done this year in the various departments of each school. This morning the teachers will make visits to each school.

The exhibit at David Prince was the largest, having the high school departments.

The manual training work on exhibit attracted much attention. It was all bench work, largely hall trees and stools. The mechanical drawing plates of projections and working drawings, with tracings and blue prints show careful work.

The work of the domestic science department was evidence that some of the high school pupils can make their own clothes and that they need not be ashamed of that. Not only are dresses neat and made-over on the play, but there was a large display of hats.

The exhibit of the Latin department consisted of clippings from advertisements, cartoons and magazines and Greek elements in our language in prominence.

The exhibit of the mathematics department, the history department and the commercial departments drew crowds of inquisitive spectators.

Other exhibits of penmanship, drawing, weaving and handicraft were on display.

Are You Doing the Same Thing as Bathing in Dirty, Stagnant Water?

Not if you know it—you are not. But perhaps you never thought of it in just that way.

You use water in washing face, hands or body for the purpose of cleansing. You use clean water—not dirty, stagnant water.

You use soap with the water—for the same purpose—cleansing. But, did you ever stop to consider the cleanliness, the purity of the soap. You should. Soap should be just as clean, just as pure, as the water you use. All soap is not.

Remmo Sterilized Toilet Soap is and you know it is. In the first place Remmo is produced from the highest grade and purest ingredients procurable. Then it is sterilized at 198 degrees Fahrenheit. This process of sterilization eliminates any impurity that might have found its way into Remmo Soap during its manufacture. Remmo Sterilized Toilet Soap is the purest soap that can be produced—it is pure when it reaches you. It is pure when you use it. It possesses remarkable cleansing quality. Gives copious creamy lather. It cleanses thoroughly. It beautifies the skin—leaving it refreshed and invigorated, with feeling of cleanliness that is a delight to experience.

Despite the high quality and absolute purity of Remmo Sterilized Toilet Soap, it is not expensive. Fact of the matter is, it costs no more than ordinary Toilet Soap. So there is no reason why anyone should not enjoy the luxury of this purest soap—and its many benefits.—Adv.

FINANCIAL SYSTEM HIGH PRICE BASIS

In the current issue of the Atlantic Monthly, Melvin T. Copeland has an interesting article on Profitteering and Prices. The opening paragraphs deal with the generally accepted theory that the profiteering is done by the wholesalers and the retailers. Mr. Copeland takes the view that except in a small number of cases that these charges are not true. The theory advanced is that the real cause of high prices can be found in the existent financial system and the inflation due to it.

Mr. Copeland argues the question in the following paragraphs:

Large quantities of merchandise, such as shoes, hosiery and dry goods have been ordered by wholesalers and retailers for delivery during the spring months of 1920 at price 20 to 40 per cent above those that ruled last autumn. There are some indications that additional increases are anticipated for the coming fall season. To carry on their business at these prices, wholesalers and retailers, as well as the manufacturers, will require much larger credits than heretofore. The burden will fall on the banks. It is doubtful if the resources even of the Federal Reserve system are great enough to carry this additional burden. If not, prices must come down. It is also doubtful if the public will pay these higher prices. If not, the goods must be sold for what they will bring, in order that the merchants may pay their bills.

Once the upward movement of prices is stopped, loss of confidence probably will result, and a period of general readjustment will begin. Sooner or later a readjustment will be forced by some means. The longer deflation is postponed by laxity in granting the greater will be the eventual hardship imposed upon business and the public.

Demands Very Heavy

For many commodities, especially luxuries, the demand from consumers has been unusually heavy during this period of rising prices. This demand has been stimulated by the process of inflation in suddenly and rapidly augmenting money wages and other monetary income of a portion of the community. Some workmen, who are producing no more than in the past, have been purchasing expensive hats and shirts; their wives and daughters have been buying silk stockings and other luxuries to which they were not previously accustomed. Some other consumers have had their money incomes abnormally increased, and they too have been spending more or less recklessly. This is the demand that has characterized, to some extent at least, the active retail trade of recent months.

Manufacturers Cautious.

Many unfulfilled requirements of the war period, however, are not yet being satisfied. Our facilities for producing essential articles are not being sufficiently expanded. Most manufacturers are cautious about expanding their plans under present conditions. The railroads of the country cannot now afford to provide adequate equipment. There is a large accumulated demand for new homes, which is not being filled while the prices for labor and materials are at the present high levels.

A substantial portion of the unusual business activity of recent months, therefore, is to be attributed, not to requirements arising from curtailed consumption during the war, but to inflation. Such business is not built on a firm foundation.

The inflation of currency and credit, and therefore of prices, is one of the chief causes of social unrest. That this has always been the result under similar conditions in this country and in other countries, is a lesson clearly taught by history. Throughout Europe the problems of social unrest have been greatly intensified by the vast quantities of paper money issued during the last five years. The Bolsheviks have turned out paper troubles as voluminously and as recklessly as assignats were issued during the French Revolution—and with the same results. Austria and Germany are almost swamped with paper money that soon may be worthless. France and Italy have departed far from sound monetary principles. Great Britain issued a large amount of paper money during the war. To only a slight extent have any of these countries taken steps to rehabilitate their currencies. In the United States, inflation fortunately was less than in the belligerent countries of Europe; our gold standard was maintained; and the recent action of the Federal Reserve board indicates that in this country the period of increasing inflation definitely has come to an end. It appears that our government at last has taken action—the only practical action—which eventually will result in bringing prices down.

Temporary Hardships.

The process of deflation may bring with it temporary hardships to business. These hardships, nevertheless, will be the lesser of two evils. We shall suffer less from this process of readjustment, if it comes soon, than we should suffer were the upward swing of prices to go further, and eventually come down with a severe crash. If prices were to continue to rise, our labor problems would become far more difficult than any that we have yet experienced. Another rapid increase in prices would furnish the radical agitator with the best ammunition that he could wish. Under present conditions, an additional rise in prices would enable the radicals to secure sympathy in many quarters where their preachings ordinarily are not heeded. For

NO SUCCESSOR TO HINES NAMED

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Although Walker D. Hines retires tomorrow as director general of railroads, white house officials said tonight that there had been no final selection of his successor, who will wind up affairs of the railroad administration and dispose of delayed settlements between the roads and the government.

The advisability of giving the task to Secretary Payne of the interior department, in addition to his present duties is understood to have been under consideration. Mr. Payne declined today to discuss that proposal or say whether he had been consulted on the subject.

Max Thelan, now in charge of the railroad administration liquidation bureau, also has been mentioned, as Mr. Hines' successor.

these reasons, temporary hardships during the period of deflation are a small price to pay for safeguarding our institutions. Once this fundamental readjustment is made, a period of real and wide-spread prosperity may be expected.

As for profiteering, most manufacturers and merchants can be freed from that charge. They are not to be relieved to the slightest degree, however, from their public responsibility to introduce more economical methods into their factories and stores, and to pass on the savings in the form of lower prices to the public. Operating expenses in many retail stores, for example, are unnecessarily high. It is the duty of merchants to work out practical means whereby these expenses eventually can be reduced by better and more economical management.

Daily Market Report

BUSINESS ON STOCK

EXCHANGE DULL

New York, May 14.—Business in the stock exchange today was to the point of stagnation. The market was comparatively steady, with a few fluctuations in the local market for the first time in several weeks showing signs of a quiet condition.

Developments of the day were susceptible of bearish inclination. Industrial situation continued to reflect the tense conditions in the Middle West, where the carage intensified the serious situation of freight at terminals. New conditions in the local money market were not materially changed.

His gave a better account of himself than any other class of stocks, especially Texas and oil and several other of the eastern and southwestern divisions. Final prices for steels, cements, oils and shippings rather mixed, but higher in grain. Total sales amounted to $1,000,000.

Amount of interest, trading in the market was at all times overshadowed by the weakness of Liberty and Victory notes. Almost all exceptions those issues seemed to fall to lowest quotations in their history. Foreign exchange also lost some of their advance, while domestic and industrial were irregular. Total sales (par value) aggregated $16,125,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged.

CORN TAKES A FURTHER ADVANCE

Chicago, May 14.—Pessimism regarding the outlook for improved transportation, together with active export demand for bread stuff, gave decided strength to the corn market today. Prices went to the topmost point yet this season.

The finish was unsettled, 1 1/2c to 2 1/2c higher, with July 1 1/2c to 1 3/4c, and September 1 1/4c to 1 1/2c. Oats gained 1/4c to 1 1/2c. In provisions the outcome ranged from 10 cents decline to 25 cents advance.

Corn traders appeared to be much impressed by statements of a leading railway official that there was little prospect of better railway traffic conditions, and that grain prices would therefore remain high.

Ascented with corn in the absence of any special opposition. Foreign selling of land had a depressing effect on provision values, but the strength of grain led afterward to rallies.

MANY PAID HONOR TO CAPT. J. M. SWALES

Funeral Services Were Held at Central Christian Church Friday Afternoon.

The funeral of Captain James M. Swales was attended by a large company at Central Christian church yesterday afternoon. The attendance of the army comrades of the deceased was especially large and gratifying. The services were in charge of Rev. M. L. Pontius, while excellent music was supplied by C. L. Mathis, Prof. Keep, Miss Cora Graham and Mrs. W. D. Hitt, who sang "Rock of Ages," "Abide with Me," and "Come Unto Me When Shadows Darkly Gather."

The floral tributes were many and beautiful and were in charge of Mrs. Mary E. Trotter, Mrs. Guy Henderson and Mrs. P. G. Stein.

Mr. Pontius read the twelfth chapter of Ecclesiastes and offered a fervent prayer. He took for his text the words in James 4:14: "What is your life?" and he said in brief:

"This is a question which was asked by an apostle who was related to the Blessed Savior. We are here today to pay a deserved tribute of love and affection to one who has lived eighty years on earth. He was a man who was known and honored by all who were acquainted with him."

"Not long since I had the pleasure of a visit with him and he was looking forward to this occasion because he felt that the end was not far away. He told me of the past and I asked him what his life had been, and he replied it had been one of service. He was especially a self-made man and he did well his part in life. When the summons came to defend the union he volunteered gladly and bravely did his part for the preservation of our country and the freedom of the slave. And before he returned he was honored with a captain's commission by his government and many other honors were bestowed upon him, among others the last was a triumphant election to an important office in the country."

"He told me of his experience in that awful prison hell of Andersonville, where for weary months he endured pain, hunger and exposure rather than take the oath against his country and he relieved. How those men in that awful condition ever survived the brutality of their captors is a marvel to me."

"Capt. Swales was one of the great number who gave themselves that our country might be saved and we never can honor them too much. He was loyal to principle and right and stood by his convictions, no matter what the cost. He has for many years been a member of Central Christian church but not active in his membership, and he remarked that one great regret of his was that he had not kept in closer touch with the church."

"I see him now as a young man, proudly stepping away to the conflict and then I see him again returning laden with the honor of his country and again I see him in his last illness and his only regret was that he had not been in closer touch with the church of his choice."

I see before me many brave veterans of the stirring days of the Civil war, and I see others also in the audience who are over 70 years of age. I would say to you all, 'Let it not be your regret that you have not kept closer to your religious duties.'

"You old soldiers fought bravely under the country's flag. You endured toil and privation, you saw dangers untold and probably none of you came home sound. But let me say to you that there is another flag under which you should all fight. It is the snow white flag of the Redeemer, the banner of Christ. Are you fighting under that also? Are your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace? Have you the shield of faith, the helmet of salvation and the sword of the spirit with you in your conflict? May you all and may we all align ourselves under the command of the great captain of our salvation and may it be said of us:

"So live, that when thy summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan, that moves
To that mysterious realm, where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death
Thou go not, like the gaily-dressed
Scourge to his dungeon, but Sustained and soothed
By unflinching trust, approach
Thy grave,
Like one who wraps the drapery
Of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

At the close of the service the remains were gently borne to Diamond street cemetery by Comrades C. R. Taylor, L. G. Hean, John Minter, S. O. Barr, John Kirkman, R. D. Mawson.

Among those present from out of the city were Colonel Richings, J. Shend, Wm. J. Carson, and Mrs. Guy E. Henderson, Springfield, Ill. and John L. Freeman, Chicago. Col. Shend came as a representative of the Adjutant General's office, members of the county board, various county officers and members of the grand jury attended the service in a body.

Hospitaller Com mandery No. 31, K. T., will assemble at asylum Sunday, May 16, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of attending Ascension Day service at Springfield. The special train leaves Jacksonville at 11 o'clock. Visiting Knights invited to accompany us.

COMMITTEE MEETS ON VOTING PRECINCTS

Conference at City Hall—Nearly Every Member of Various Committees Present—Chairman Alexander Appoints Committee to Interview County Board.

The committees appointed by the chairman of the republican and democratic central committees and Mayor Crabtree for the city met in the council chamber in the city hall Friday evening to discuss the matter of making uniform county and city voting places.

Those present were: W. L. Alexander, John W. Clary, Hal-ler Higgins, M. L. Hildreth, Roy Mawson, J. W. Merrigan, C. O. Bayha, J. S. Sheppard, S. A. Fairbank, Michael McGinnis and G. W. Davis.

The meeting was called to order by W. L. Alexander. He was selected chairman and G. W. Davis was chosen secretary.

After organization the chair stated the object of the meeting. He said it was for the purpose of formulating plans to present to the county board for making the voting districts of the city and county uniform.

There was a general discussion of the question and the districts as now outlined for the city and county were discussed. After talking over the matter it seemed to be the consensus of opinion that the voting districts now used by the city were what should be adopted by the county.

A motion was made and carried that the chair appoint a committee of five, he to be ex-officio a member to wait upon the county board and urge the change.

The chair appointed Michael McGinnis, J. W. Clary, A. E. Williamson, Halter Higgins and G. W. Davis.

John S. Sheppard and Walter H. DeShara were appointed a committee to investigate as to the location of permanent voting places in the various districts when they are adopted.

The meeting was a most harmonious one. The one thought that seemed uppermost in the minds of those present was that get voting districts adopted for both city and county that would make voting an easy matter instead of the Chinese puzzle that it is now.
